Feature

All I ever learned, I learned from anime...

1. War sucks.
2. You CAN have too many women.
3. Smart people wear glasses.
4. Music foreshadows plot.
5. The less you care about sex, the more opportunities you'll get.
6. (Inversely, the harder you try, the less you'll get.)
7. When you die, make a long speech, and don't finish the last sentence.
8. The best teams come in fives.
9. In space, you can hear everything.
10. There's always room for flashbacks!
11. When in China, listen to your tour guide.
12. The good guy always has the BLUE glow.
13. Believe in goddesses.
14. Teachers have excellent aim with small objects.
15. Vengeance with a mallet is the sweetest revenge of all.
16. Honor is sexy; villainy is irresistible.
17. Women are attracted to losers; men are attracted to ANYTHING.
18. The coolest weapon is still the sword.
19. The hero is never really mad until they hurt his girlfriend.
20. Female androids are sexy; male androids are....male androids.
21. School uniforms are cool only when the collar is open.
22. A show without sexual tension isn't worth watching.
23. Love knows no race, species, or logic.
24. If it's homemade but tastes bad, grin and bury it (discreetly).
25. Never trust a huge corporation.
26. Always take gravity into account.
27. No matter how much blood is lost, no one can die by a nosebleed.
28. Food is a very powerful motivator.
29. All high school principals in Japan are clinically insane.
30. The fate of the planet ALWAYS rests in the hands of some high school student.
